

Laurie Gonya

LAURIE GONYA

ABOUT THE ARTIST

I grew up watching my mother plant and cultivate our yard into magnificent gardens using different textures, patterns, and colors as her palette. Often she would find me outside sketching in her garden.

After many years of searching for the right subject to paint, I finally found my passion in painting flowers. I came back to my roots. Flowers have been my inspiration for several years now.

I am engaged in the process of finding the perfect flowers to photograph, then using the photographs as reference when painting. I paint in a realistic style using many layers of acrylic paint and glazes to capture the light and intensify the color and form. By magnifying the flowers and background, my goal is for the observer to feel the petal and smell the blossom. My success comes when the viewer gets lost in the blossom and is connected to the world within.

GON001 - Hydrangea

GON002 - Hydrangea II

GON022 - White Peony

GON004 - Lisianthus

GON005 - Simple White Rose

GON006 - Peach Rose

GON007 - Purple Roses

GON008 - Red Garden Roses

GON009 - Parrot Tulips

GON010 - Trumpet Flowers

GON011 - Two Roses

GON012 - White Beach Roses

LAURIE
GONYA

GON013 - White Rose with Buds

GON014 - Iris Close-up

GON015 - Pink Dahlia

GON016 - Pink Rose

GON017 - Ranunculus

GON018 - Rose of Sharon

GON019 - Yellow Dahlias

GON020 - Pink Beach Rose

GON021 - Dahlia in Bloom

GON003 - Hydrangea II